

NAME: Nico

GENDER: Male

DATE OF BIRTH: June 18, 2021

Nico and his friend Oliver were living outside the U.S. Embassy in Amman, Jordan. They were being fed by Americans working at the embassy. Because they were so friendly their feeders arranged for their rescue through the Basboos Project, a local organization that vets cats and transports them to other countries, where they are fostered and adopted.

Nico is a goofy big guy that likes to bird watch and relax. His right eye is cloudy from getting scratched during play in foster, but he can still see and it does not bother him.

Since Nico was living on the street in Amman, it is hard to say what his opinion of dogs is. Usually, cats with his history either consider dogs enemies or good friends depending on their past experiences with them. Nico would do well with children in a high activity house and can be left alone for 8-10 hours without causing mischief or becoming destructive. He is a big boy so children should be supervised if picking him up to ensure it is done safely.

Nico prefers dry food but will eat select flavors of wet food. He is currently served Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One turkey or salmon Indoor Advantage kibble. He is vaccinated against rabies and distemper, neutered, microchipped, and on flea treatment. He tested negative for FeLV and FIV.
