

NAME: Octavia

GENDER: Female

DATE OF BIRTH: November 9, 2021

Octavia was found as a pregnant stray in West Virginia. She was friendly so her rescuer got her inside and cared for where she could have the best chance for her babies. She had three little girls that looked just like her and they have since been adopted to loving homes. Octavia has remained in foster where she could get spayed and her vaccines.

Octavia is a beautiful long-haired black tuxedo who is neutral with other cats and reserved when meeting new humans. She is not afraid to let you know if you have broken her social etiquette by giving you a firm but gentle swat with her paw. Once she has warmed up to you, she will come to greet you and rub your hand with her head.

Because of the swatting, Octavia is not recommended for a home with children under 14. She would prefer to be in a quieter environment where she could get attention and play on her own terms with her human. Octavia was most likely an outside cat before her rescue and is therefore more independent from humans than other cats that were raised inside. She would probably not bond to another cat but could live with a friendly one or by herself.

Octavia has been vaccinated against rabies and distemper, is FIV and FeLV negative, and has been microchipped and spayed. She has been eating Purina True Instinct grain-free kibble and Fancy Feast classic pate.
