

NAME: Roland & Jonathan

GENDER: Male

DOB: Roland 10/29/2021; Jonathan 8/24/2022

Roland and Jonathan are a pair of long-haired orange tabbies found when 4Paws was helping a partner rescue in West Virginia remove cats from a hoarding situation. Although they are different ages, they probably have at least one common parent. Roland had been neutered by the homeowner, so he is thought to be one of her indoor/outdoor cats. Jonathan is a little more cautious with people until he gets to know you. He looks to Roland for guidance in new situations. They both are friendly but unsure of being picked up, so it would be best if they were adopted into a home with patient humans who will work to earn their trust and bond with them.

Roland and Jonathan were initially thought to be bonded. But once they got to Meows Corner they made new friends, so they can be adopted separately. They also are old enough that they can be only kitties if they are not left without a human or fur friend for long periods of time.

They have been near the foster's large breed dog and did well so should be OK around other friendly calm dogs. They will also do well with older children who are respectful and quiet.

Roland and Jonathan have been vaccinated against rabies and distemper, neutered, microchipped, and tested negative for FIV and FeLV. They are eating Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One dry kibble.
