

NAME: Dexter Meyer

GENDER: Male

DATE OF BIRTH: August 29, 2013

Dexter and his brother Dakota were turned over to 4Paws because their family recently had a baby and one of the resident dogs became very protective of the baby. The family tried various strategies to create a better balance between the cats and dogs, but nothing worked. Although it was heartbreaking, they chose to re-home the cats for their own safety. The cats were initially thought to be bonded but when their environment changed, Dakota began trying to dominate Dexter and as a result Dexter did not thrive. So although they have lived together previously 4Paws would not recommend them living together again because of the negative impact it could have on Dexter.

Dexter is a beautiful gray tuxedo with incredible green eyes. He looks like he should be in commercials! He likes people once he gets to know them and likes playing with catnip toys.

Dexter was harmoniously living with two medium-large dogs before his family had the baby, so he will be OK around calm, friendly dogs. He can live with other cats. His former family said the baby fusing didn't really bother him so he should be OK with respectful children of all ages after appropriate introductions and with proper supervision of littler ones.

Dexter has been neutered, microchipped, tested negative for FeLV and FIV, and vaccinated. He is eating Fancy Feast classic pate and grilled flavors at the café, and supplementing with Purina grain-free kibble.
