

NAME: Moony

GENDER: Male

DATE OF BIRTH: August 14, 2020

Moony was taken in by a young lady whose neighbor was moving out and going to surrender him to a kill shelter in Delaware. She was moving shortly herself, so she took him with her cat to Washington, D.C. There she contacted 4Paws to find him a good home since her apartment only allowed a single pet.

Moony is a handsome young fellow with white fur and pretty greenish-yellow eyes. He is kind of a goofball although he doesn't mean to be. Mischief seems to find Moony rather than Moony finding it. Like the time he got his head stuck in the empty Kleenex box and panicked, backing up and circling around blindly. He stumbled into a deep litter box and continued the panicked circling, flinging cat litter all over until his foster mom could grab the box and pull it off. Or the time he had the "zoomies" and caused the stack of clean metal bowls to come crashing down from the table, with a clang and clatter that could have awakened the dead, and sent everyone running for cover.

Moony has a healthy appetite and would introduce himself to other foster cats by helping himself to their meals. Some would gladly share but others were put off by his forthrightness. Moony likes other cats and he would lie on the easy chair with them, but he never grew close with any of them. He waited for the humans to come visit and would engage them for pets and treats. He liked his foster's mastiff and was curious about her when she would pass through the foster room. He would do OK as an only cat or with other cats, or in a multi-species house.

Moony has been neutered, microchipped, tested negative for FIV and FeLV, and vaccinated. He has been eating Fancy Feast Classic Pate and Grilled flavors, and Blue Buffalo Sensitive Stomach dry food.
