

NAME: Echo and Mascarpone

GENDER: Males

DATE OF BIRTH: August 21, 2023

Echo and Mascarpone are active and playful bonded brothers who were rescued in Martinsburg, West Virginia with Wren, their buff tabby sister. The three tiny kittens were found huddling to keep warm under a camper in someone's yard early one morning. The couple brought them inside to warm up and give them a treat of tuna. They turned them over to rescue and 4Paws took them for Meows Corner.

Echo and Mascarpone are serious about their play and have no fear, engaging all the cats in their foster room to join in on the fun. They are curious about newcomers and don't have a sense of boundaries, insisting on walking up to new cats to greet them despite being hissed and swatted at.

They are both loving but Echo is cuddlier than Mascarpone, who tends to be more active and physical in his behaviors. They both are great eaters and try to sample from every bowl placed out at feeding time. When the water fountain is being refreshed, Echo and Mascarpone rush over to get a drink and play in the stream.

They have seen the foster's mastiff dog outside through a storm door and hunker down as if to make themselves invisible when watching. So they probably will initially be scared of dogs and will therefore do best in a home with no dogs or with an older, quiet, calm dog that doesn't get excited about much. They would do great with kids of any age and need an active house to match their higher-energy tempo. They need to be adopted together.

The boys have had their vaccinations, are microchipped, and have been neutered. They have tested negative for FeLV and FIV. They are eating Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One kibble.
