Purrsonality: Nina loves people and wants to follow you wherever you go. She will make a beeline for a door if she knows that is where you are headed and stretch up on it as if to say, "can I come too?". She and Gilly are not bonded but have lived in foster together and apparently would create games to play with each other and get into innocent mischief and mayhem, as active kittens do.

Children? Nina would do great with kids of all ages.

Other cats? Nina will need another playful cat in her new home.

Dogs? Nina has not been tested with dogs but should do OK if the dog is friendly and calm, and proper integration protocols are followed.

Background: Nina was born in a foster home and when she was older she was fostered with her buddy Gilly.

Medical or special care notes: Nina has been spayed, has had her vaccinations for rabies and distemper, and is microchipped. She has tested negative for FeLV and FIV. She is eating Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One kibble.
