Purrsonality: Fuji is a sensitive and cautious kitten that prefers quiet approaches and a relaxing environment. He likes sleeping under things and silently observing the activities before deciding to participate. He is a quiet kitten that his foster has never heard meow.

Children? Fuji would do best with older kids (12+) that can be respectful of his need for slow and quiet approaches to earn his trust.

Other cats? Fuji gets along with other cats and will need another cat to help him feel safe and gain confidence.

Dogs? Fuji would not do well with dogs.

Background: Fuji was trapped in TNR operations in Beaufort, North Carolina with several other kittens and cats over a period of a couple months. He was vetted as a potential feral (given an ear tip) but was friendly so was taken into foster and transferred to northern Virginia to find a forever home.

Medical or special care notes: Fuji has had vaccinations for rabies and distemper, is microchipped, and has been neutered. He has tested negative for FeLV and FIV. He is eating Fancy Feast classic pate (no fish flavors) and Purina One Indoor Advantage turkey.
