Purrsonality: Pistachio is a gentle boy who can be initially shy around new people. He is much calmer than his more rambunctious and wild brothers. Once he warms up, he appreciates soft pets and playtime with a variety of different toys. He is not a big fan of loud noises and a bunch of crazy things going on around him, but prefers a calmer and quieter pace of life!

Children? Pistachio would do well with more mature children, who would be patient with him getting to know them.

Other cats? Pistachio will need another cat friend in his home.

Dogs? Pistachio would do well with slower, friendly dogs.

Background: Pistachio is one of seven kittens that Meows Corner alum, Ruby, had after she was rescued off the streets in Alexandria. Ruby and one of his brothers have already been adopted from Meows Corner. Some of Pistachio's other brothers are still in foster and waiting for their turns to live at the café and find their forever homes!

Medical or special care notes: Pistachio is neutered, has had his vaccinations for rabies and distemper, and is microchipped. He has tested negative for FeLV and FIV. He is eating Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One kibble.
